Thanks Greg,

I just responded to most of your comments and made a few additional changes. I incorporated OTAQs suggestions as well. I think it's looking pretty good for Pat's review and am logging off until next week.

Happy New Year!

Eric

Hi Eric,

I've finished reviewing the RTC. You did an excellent job. I only made some minor edits and spotted a number of sentences that are missing a word or two – I placed bubble comments in the margin for those. I think I also had a question or two which I also placed in the margin. I made no substantive changes that would have resulted in changes to the permit.

Thanks,
Greg

Pat and Greg,

The draft Response to Comments and RLSO version of the final permit for South Fork Wind are ready for your review. Context-wise, I believe our responses are in pretty good shape. I haven't had a chance to read back through everything, so I'm sure you will find typos and grammatical errors, and maybe some sentence structure that needs reorganizing for flow. There are few comment bubbles where I added some additional information, but the document is ready for review and further editing.

Here are the links to the working copy of the Response to Comments and RLSO of the Final Permit. No need to track minor edits in the Response to Comments but please track all changes in the final permit so that we have a RedLine-

StrikeOut copy for the changes made. These links should work for anyone at EPA. I'm routing to you both concurrently due to timing considerations.

All of the South Fork documents are available online at <https://www.epa.gov/caa-permitting/south-fork-wind-llcs-south-fork-windfarm-draft-outer-continental-shelf-air-permit>.

At times, I also found it helpful to review some of the VW files. <https://www.epa.gov/caa-permitting/permit-documents-vineyard-wind-1-llcs-wind-energy-development-project-800mw-offshore>

Have a good Christmas and we'll talk soon!
